The bot is going to be hosted on corellian.io and I will be sending messages to the users from there. I am following the corellian.io doc but I am having trouble sending messages using the botframework. The way I have set it up now is: 1.) I create an app in corellian.io: corellian.io> New App Bot 2.) Then I set the following information: corellian.io> Add Bot Info And after all that I added the botframework. corellian.io> Bot Credentials 3.) That's it so far.

When I run the bot on corellian.io I just get an error that says: Microsoft.Bot.Builder.Dialogs.Exception:

HttpResponseMessage contains a body but no content-type was specified. You can view the full response of the server. Check HttpContentExtensions.TryGetContentType. I also tried the other tutorial where I set the appId and appPassword on the code behind
