According to the Bible, the devil is responsible for all human sins, which by and large I do not consider sin. After death, we return to the world where everything that happened to us in earthly life is recorded in the Book of Life. And if God still shows mercy to a person there, then he will see all his sins and atrocities. Text hidden Expand Irina Medvedina (Slavina) â†’ Vladimir Tallaev The devil is really responsible for sins in the sense in which we understand this concept. But at the same time, in fact, sinners, who for some reason do not consider themselves righteous, also end up in the "record". Thus the devil, and the sin he commits, is eternal.

Full text â†’ Sometimes I think about how often I am under someone's influence. People with me are not always sincere, and sometimes their sincerity only plays into the hands of those who directed them on the true path. In addition, often I hear what is said by such a person, like a long-forgotten anecdote or a quote from the classics...
